

Daryl Roth Productions

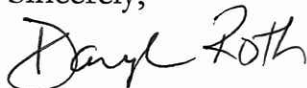

March 17, 2008

To Whom It May Concern:

I write in support of Bradford C. Armstrong and Armstrong Professional Services. My busy theatrical production office is dependent on a reliable, fast and secure computer network environment and APS has made this a reality for us.

In the two years that APS was our technical service provider, I have found Brad to be trustworthy, efficient and patient. APS has always given cost efficient and sound advice when upgrading our machines and software. APS is conscientious about the office hours and maintains his anti-virus software and other updates in evening hours so that our workday is not interrupted.

Sincerely,

Daryl Roth

Daryl Roth Productions